

Learning Outcomes

Participants will be able to

1. explain and plan how to activate their students to study in English
2. make use of resources to build up academic English skills
3. plan input-, activation- and moderation sequences in English
4. define forms and criteria for evaluation, assessment and feedback
5. make use of feedback and evaluation methods in English

Content

Studying in English is a challenge, and so is teaching in English. With our school education we acquire advanced English skills, yet studying and teaching a specific field in English at university level sets a new level. In this workshop, we are going to address how to meet the requirements and expand your skill set. We will focus on didactic aspects, as well as the language perspective. To “practice what we preach”, we will make use of activating methods in our workshop, discuss, evaluate, and transfer these to your classes. With the resources provided, you can prepare your English classes and receive feedback in the workshop.

Speaker

Alexandra Bergedick

Target group

Research assistants, teaching assistants and teaching staff.

Dates

September 26, 2016	13:00 17:00
September 27, 2016	09:00 17:00

Place

SR 60 – German Sport University Cologne

Scope

12 AE for the “Basismodul” of the certificate program “Professionelle Lehrkompetenz für die Hochschule des Netzwerks Hochschuldidaktik NRW”.

Registration deadline

August 26, 2016

Fees

The fee in the amount of 120,-€ will be taken over for educators from the GSU.