SECTOR-SPECIFIC SKILLS SOLUTIONS FOR ACTIVE LEISURE

BLUEPRINT

ABOUT THE PROJECT

Technological progress and globalisation are challenging industrial sectors and the wider global economy. The European Commission has now highlighted the role and responsibility of sectors to find sector-specific solutions with the New Skills Agenda for Europe and the launch of the Blueprint for Sectoral Cooperation.

The Active Leisure Sector – a combination of fitness and outdoor – has intensively worked on developing its own skills agenda, and over the years has recognised the importance of cooperation and support of the European tools and policies available and how Active Leisure works within the broader sport setting.

The Blueprint for Skills Cooperation and Employment in Active Leisure project is an important continuation of a journey for the Active Leisure sector that has already been over 15 years in development. Now it is to establish the long-term Blueprint for Skills Cooperation and Employment in Active Leisure.

This project is the Active Leisure sector's contribution to develop a new framework for strategic cooperation between key stakeholders.
