

With more than 6000 students from 93 countries, the German Sport University Cologne (GSU) is currently an outstanding university location both nationally and internationally. The GSU stands for proven research with a high volume of third-party funding and state-of-the-art as well as international teaching in all social and life science sub-disciplines of sport science.

The following position is to be filled by the next possible date:

W2-Professorship for Exercise and Movement Science in Sports Games (w/m/d)

The GSU seeks an internationally recognised personality with special expertise in integrative sport-specific training and movement science in sports games. The coupling of theory and practice should be taken into account and, in particular, experience in the scientific monitoring of projects from high-performance sport should be available.

The applicants must document:

- relevant international publications in the field of training and movement science in sports games
- recognisable transfer achievements of the scientific findings into sports practice
- the successful acquisition of competitive and non-competitive third-party funding
- positively evaluated teaching in the context of the professorship

Applicants are expected to have:

- expertise in the field of performance optimisation taking into account cognitive aspects as well as performance-oriented analysis and training of movement sequences in sports games
- national and international research cooperations in training and movement science
- cooperation with various top organisations in the field of sports games

Desirable attributes:

- willingness to cooperate with subject-related institutes of the German Sport University Cologne and to work in interdisciplinary and research-led teaching
- leadership experience in dealing with staff, organisational experience in university teaching as well as experience in university self-administration and committee work
- teaching experience in English language

Willingness to work in all Bachelor's, Master's and Teacher's degree programmes at the GSU is expected.

Prerequisites of employment according to § 36 of the Higher Education Act NRW are:

- a university degree
- a Ph.D. or equivalent
- appropriate pedagogical/educational skills
- a post doctoral qualification (habilitation) or equivalent scientific achievements

The position includes a teaching load of 9 teaching units (45 mins) per week (F1).

For international applicants, initial adequate German language skills and the ability to offer classes taught in German language within six semesters are expected.

The German Sport University Cologne strives to increase the proportion of female staff and expressly encourages qualified female applications. Women will be considered preferentially in accordance with the State Equality Act.

Applications from persons with severe disabilities or equivalent status are welcome. They will be given preferential treatment within the framework of the statutory provisions.

It is the policy of the German Sport University Cologne to support its employees in reconciling family life and work.
