
Internship: Editor / Communications (m/f/d)

WhoRanked is a data-driven platform for action sports rankings, stats, and news. We're looking for an Editor / Communications intern to support our editorial output and grow our social media presence.

Your role

- Create short, stats- and data-based articles (events, rankings, athletes)
- Turn insights and numbers into engaging social content
- Help build and manage our own social channels

Your profile

- Strong interest in action sports, data, and digital media
- Comfortable working with numbers and writing
- Independent and well-structured working style

We offer

- Hands-on experience in an international sports data project
- High responsibility and creative freedom
- Flexible, remote-friendly setup
